Activities Available:

Tree Sleuth: (grades 4 & up) A fun and engaging activity in which scouts learn how to identify trees by their bark, shape, seeds/fruits, and leaves. A hike on the Tree House Trail then offers the opportunity to practice those skills in a beautiful, forest environment. The facilitator will discuss the trees usefulness to wildlife and humans. Additionally, the scouts will be focusing on the sights, sounds and scents of the forest.

Biomass Energy: (grades 2 & up) tour the world-class Lied Lodge to learn about its environmentally friendly construction features. View how Biomass can be transformed into fire and steam. Visit our tree plantation to learn how fast-growing trees are grown, cut and re-grown for energy. Explore Arbor Day Farm's Fuelwood Energy Plant Visitors Gallery to learn about other renewable energy sources.

Trees Inside and Out (grades 1-5) is a Project Learning Tree Activity in which students act out the parts of a tree and its importance in helping trees function.

Reading the Rings: an introduction to Dendochronology. Scouts discover how a tree's rings reveals its life history.

Nature Scavenger Hunt - (grades 1-5) Use a Nature Scarf to guide your walk through the Tree House and Exploratory Trails to find specific nature items. This activity increases scout awareness of the diversity of wildlife with search items such as "find something in nature shaped like a star"; "where do swallowtail butterflies like to live." Each scout is allowed to keep their Nature Scarf.
